Summary

Established in 1995, LNG Group have 25 years of proven ability to tackle complex recruitment campaigns and are especially strong in interstate recruitment of personnel and moving them around Australia for clients. We have built our reputation by providing recruitment solutions for a plethora of world class clients across the Energy, Resources, Defence, Renewables and Infrastructure sectors.

Description

We are renowned for recruiting project teams specialising in site and office-based personnel including:

Construction Teams - Managers, Superintendents, Supervisors, Inspectors, Permit to Work, HSE Advisors, Specialised Tradesman and Technicians

Engineering Teams - Mechanical, Piping, Civil, Structural, Electrical, QA/QC, HSE

Project Services - Project Controls, Contracts, Planning, Expediting, Materials, HSE Advisors

LNG Group has a FairWork approved Enterprise Agreement for Blue Collar personnel which is valid till 30th March 2024.

We navigate the complex recruitment cycle, creating great experiences for both clients and candidates with every search approached with a no stone left unturned philosophy. LNG Group and its specialist divisions understands that clients have different and unique requirements and our recruitment methodology is dynamic for the purpose of meeting our clients' specific needs, site location and market position.

LNG Group has an established talent pool of candidates for immediate and strategic staffing requirements. We utilise multiple sourcing methods and an innovative approach to ensure our candidate attraction strategies are effective.

To enable consistent and regular contact with all key stakeholders, LNG Group allocates a dedicated Account Manager to the client. The Account Manager will oversee and administer contractual obligations to ensure the required level of service and needs are met. Our personalised service approach to clients involves management, operations, recruitment and accounts/payroll personnel maintaining regular contact with our clients and candidates based on an agreed frequency of required communication.

Across LNG Group we require the active commitment to and accountability for safety, quality and environmental responsibility from all leaders, employees and workers. We hope to achieve this by creating a safety culture, through the setting of clear goals, providing everyone with the information and training they need and encouraging people at all levels to be involved in our safety journey.
