Your guide to submitting an Expression of Interest

gateway.icn.org.au
ICN Gateway is the pivotal connection between major projects and suppliers. In an increasingly competitive market, we give you access to a sophisticated business network that helps boost your business, with an immediate connection to billions of dollars’ worth of project opportunities.

Expressing interest in work on ICN Gateway is simply putting your hand up for work. You can express interest against individual work packages on ICN Gateway. By doing this, it tells either the ICN consultant or project proponent that you believe your company can do the works listed and that you would like your company’s capability assessed.

When submitting an expression of interest (EOI) you need to showcase your company’s capabilities to ensure you are considered for the job. You do this by making sure that your ICN profile is as accurate and up-to-date as possible.

This guide is designed to help you through the EOI process.

Important Note: In order to submit an EOI you will need to have a business profile on ICN Gateway.

Please note that an EOI does not guarantee that you will receive a request for tender as ICN does not take part in commercial negotiations. It does however, guarantee that your name is put in the mix as wanting to be considered.

Your expression of interest has been submitted

Thank you, your EOI has been submitted. Now we need to assess your business’s capability. If your business meets all requirements you will be nominated for these works.

Please note an EOI does not guarantee that you will receive a Request for Tender (RFT). All EOIs are evaluated on their merits and RFTs are issued accordingly.

It is important to make sure that your business profile is accurate and up to date as details from your business profile will be used when considering your submission.

IMPORTANT: email notifications

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How do I find out more about work packages listed on ICN Gateway?
You can find further information within the description section of the work package (by clicking on the ‘+’ symbol to the left of the work package title) or by downloading the scope of works documentation attached to the package of works. If a scope of works has been attached you will see it as a ↓ symbol to left of the work package title. Simply click on this symbol to start the download. If no scope of works is available, call the ICN consultant listed on the project page to discuss.

What is an EOI?
An EOI is simply putting your hand up for work. You can express interest against individual work packages on ICN Gateway. This tells either the ICN consultant or project proponent that you believe you can do the portion of works listed and that you would like your capability assessed for the package. ICN Gateway allows for both ‘full’ or ‘partial scope’ EOIs so it is important to read any attached brief scope of works carefully to determine where you should submit your EOI.

How do I submit an EOI?
To submit an EOI you first need to log in to ICN Gateway. Tick the ‘full scope’ or ‘partial scope’ EOI box next to the package in question and follow the prompts through the EOI process. When you have completed all the questions click submit. If you don’t have time to complete all the questions you can save your EOI progress and come back to complete it later.

What is the difference between ‘Full scope’ and ‘Partial scope’?
Full scope means you are able to deliver the works included in the entire work package. Partial scope means you can only complete a part of the work.

I’m not sure if I expressed an interest for a work package. How do I check?
You can review your submitted EOIs through your ICN Gateway profile. Simply login to your profile and select ‘EOI’s’ from the top menu. Select the ‘View’ or ‘Edit’ button next to any projects in the list so see your company’s EOIs, including details of who did the submission.

I submit EOIs all the time but I’ve never received any feedback
In most cases, we are unable to give feedback to suppliers on EOIs or nominations as we work confidentially with project proponents. Typically we are required to sign confidentiality agreements with them before starting any work on a project.

How do I find out who has been awarded a work package?
We flag work packages listed on ICN Gateway as ‘awarded’ once the package has been formally awarded. You will notice the work package’s status will change to ‘Awarded’ and when you click on this, the details of the successful contractor will appear. If you had submitted an EOI against the package then we will also send you an email notifying you of the award.
FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Does ICN Gateway list all the opportunities that come through ICN?
A lot of the work we do is done behind the scenes, under confidentiality. This is why it’s important for you to keep your business profile up to date because if an ICN consultant is looking for a business with your capability they need to be able to find you via a keyword search. Not maintaining your profile could mean you miss out on opportunities.

I’m looking for work on a project but I don’t have a business, can ICN Gateway help me?
ICN Gateway can help as an information source and direct you to the correct project proponent but ICN focuses on business to business matching, not on individual employment.
