

Western Australia Iron Ore

Western Ridge Project

Expression of Interest

Project Overview:

The proposed project is for the greenfield development of the BHP Iron Ore Western Australia's Western Ridge site, for a new mine development supported by non-process and process infrastructure.

An overview of the project is available at Western Ridge Project.

In late 2020, BHP sought expressions of interest from contractors experienced in delivering greenfield projects under a Design & Construct or Engineering, Procurement & Construction model. In January 2022, BHP appointed two contracting partners to prepare a competitive tender for the performance of the Western Ridge Project under an Engineering, Procurement & Construction contract model.

BHP, in collaboration with BHP's contracting partners, are seeking expressions of interest from suppliers and subcontractors experienced in supplying goods or services for greenfield projects of a similar nature. These expressions of interest are being sought whilst BHP's contracting partners are undertaking design development for the project.
