General Description
Rio Tinto's Amrun Project is located approximately 40 km south-west of Weipa in far North Queensland, Australia.

The scope of works for the Hey River/Boyd Road and bulk earthworks includes the construction of the following:

1. Three (3) bitumen sealed roads and one (1) unsealed road with varying nominal widths of 8m-10m and varying lengths up to 40km;
2. A process water pond which is to be lined with three suction lines that run through the dam embankment and an emergency spillway;
3. Establishment of six (6) bore pads; and
4. Bulk earthworks activities for multiple facilities.

The works include but are not limited to:

- Clearing and grubbing;
- Topsoil stripping, temporary and permanent stockpiling;
- Ground surface treatment;
- Earthworks;
- Pavements and bitumen sealing;
- Topsoil and grass seeding to completed earthworks;
- Road furniture and pavement delineation;
- Process and firewater pipes including flanges and end capping;
- Erosion protection at spillway and inlet; and
- Testing of any pipes in accordance with AS4041.

The primary contractor for this Scope of Work will be required to supply all supervision, non-manual, plant, equipment, labour and tools, materials, testing, commissioning, mobilisation, demobilisation, transportation, temporary facilities, erosion and sediment controls measures and any other items required to complete the Scope of Works.
